

What jobs are Poles looking for?

2009-07-02

Marketing and public relations topped the job search list 2009 at infoPraca.pl an HRsearch website in May and June. The most sought-after jobs were in computer programming, management, finances, foreign positions, as well as temp jobs for students.

Most advertised jobs, meanwhile, were in insurance, sales, production, banking and financial services. A lot of offers also appeared in: retail/ wholesale, internship, marketing/public relations, customer service /call centre with telemarketing closing the top 10.

'The large number of people looking for jobs in marketing and PR should not be surprising. This was the most popular field of studies picked by 20% of students' B eta Szilf-Nitka, General Director at infoPraca.pl says. Demand for interns and trainees maintains at a high level.
